

Shining a light.

New tariffs are on the horizon for U.S. companies. Office Depot® can help shine a light to bring visibility to the impact on your business.

FACT:

Tariffs are taxes that companies — not countries — pay on imported goods for raw materials, parts and finished products. Tariffs add to companies' cost of goods, which impacts the price customers pay.

Office Depot can be counted on to provide visibility into the impact of the tariffs.

Transparency

Our shopping experience provides powerful line-item visibility into import surcharges* and transparent pricing

Supply chain

Our innovative supply chain technologies can help further manage through this ripple effect

Private brands

We provide lower cost alternatives through our private brand offerings

Shining a light on surcharges

While the economic issue of tariffs is affecting U.S. companies (including Office Depot), you can count on us to be your source for improved visibility and communication into what these import surcharges mean for your business.

For more information, contact your Office Depot account manager.

*Some items will be subject to import surcharges, which will be visible to you at time of order.
